Econ 172A, F2001: Rules for Regrading

I realize that grades are important to you. Sometimes I made mistakes in grading papers. Here is what you should do if you have questions about your grade.

If you have questions about the quiz or the answers, you are welcome to speak to me or or a TA about them during our office hours at any time in the quarter. If you think that you should receive a higher score, please follow the rules below.

1. Please read carefully the posted answers to the exam.

2. You have two weeks from the date of the quiz to request a regrade. (That means that you have until October 26 to request a regrade of Midterm 1.) After this date, do not bother.

3. If you have questions about how your quiz was graded and you think that your score should be adjusted, then submit your question to me in writing.

   (a) Use a separate sheet of paper. (Do not write anything on your exam paper if you want your score adjusted.)

   (b) On the separate sheet, explain clearly what you do not understand about the grading on the quiz.

4. The grader and I will both review the grading of the entire exam, with an emphasis on your question. We will respond to your question.

5. If you disagree with or do not understand our comments, then speak to me about it in office hours.
