

Eli Berman

Bio

Eli Berman is chair and professor of economics at UC San Diego, research director for international security studies at the UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation, faculty member at the UCSD school of Global Policy and Strategy, member of the Empirical Studies of Conflict research project, and research associate at the National Bureau of Economic Research.

His book Radical, Religious and Violent: The New Economics of Terrorism was published in 2009 by the MIT Press. Berman received his Ph.D. in economics from Harvard University.

His latest publications are "The Empiricists' Insurgency" (with Aila Matanock), and "Modest, Secure and Employed: Successful Development in Conflict Zones," (with Joseph Felter, Jacob Shapiro and Erin Troland).

Grants supporting his research have come from the Department of Defense, Department of Homeland Security, and the National Science Foundation.

His research interests include economic development and conflict, the economics of religion, labor economics, technological change, and economic demography.