

Econ 172A, Fall 2007: Comments on the Final Grades

Comments: I wrote on your examination the total points you received for the class (the sum of your midterm grade (135), your final (150 possible), and your total homework score (20 points total multiplied by .75) (15 possible). This means that there were 300 points total available for the class. The median total point score was 225. The cutoffs for letter grades were: A 255; B 222; C 172; D and 155. I gave a small number of pluses and minuses for borderline grades.

The answers to the exam are posted on the class web page.