1 Course Objectives

This course examines theories of international trade in goods and services and analyzes the consequences of trade policies. The course presents the principle of comparative advantage and its application to classical and modern trade theory. Focusing on the long-term effects of international economic integration, the course discusses the economic effects of trade, as well as trade barriers and trading blocs, on industrial competitiveness, the income distribution, growth and welfare.

Compared to other classes on international economic integration, such as Globalization or International Monetary Relations, the International Trade class focuses on the long-term patterns of balanced trade in merchandise and services using rigorous two-country models at the industry and at the firm level. Part I of the class is dedicated to classic trade theory in a general equilibrium setting under perfect competition and explains trade between different countries. Part II of the class presents recent advances in trade theory under imperfect competition and with heterogeneous firms; it explains trade between similar countries and the formation of multinational enterprises. Part III applies the insights from both partial and general equilibrium models to policy issues related to international economic integration.

2 Prerequisites

Econ 100B or Econ 102 (previously Econ 1A-B or 2 or 100B or 170B).

3 Readings

Textbook: Krugman, Obstfeld, and Melitz (2011a)/Ch. 1 through 12

Textbook supplement: Muendler (2014)/Ch. 1 through 4 and 6

The relevant chapters of the textbook are compiled in a custom reader: Krugman, Obstfeld, and Melitz (2011a), provided for Econ 101 by Pearson Learning Solutions. This special extract is available for purchase from the bookstore. The complete textbook Krugman, Obstfeld, and Melitz (2011b), which also covers the material of Econ 102 and Econ 103, is available for purchase online. Library copies are on reserve.

The textbook supplements Muendler (2014)/Ch. 1 through 4 and 6 are available for download from the class web page (see link above) prior to the respective lectures. Further textbook supplements may become available over the course of the quarter. The supplements are zipped and password protected. The password is given out on the first day in class.

Lecture notes will be posted on the class web page (see link above) before lecture. The notes are zipped and password protected. The password is given out on the first day in class.

4 Problem Sets

There will be three problem sets, due on scheduled dates throughout the quarter. You are encouraged to work on the problems with your classmates. Your teaching assistant will hold sections over the course of the quarter to help you solve the problems, and you can receive assistance during any of the scheduled office hours. Your solutions to the problem sets will be checked by question (check/no check) and your performance on them will be a part of the final grade. Problem sets have to be handed in on paper before 5:00pm on the due date. You may bring them to class and hand them in before class begins.

Problem sets 1 and 2 will contain five exam-like but more elaborate questions, each counting three points. Problem set 3 will have seven exam-like but more elaborate questions, one question counting two points and six questions counting three points.

5 Assessment

There will be two midterm exams and a final exam. The two midterm exams will take 70 minutes each and the final exam will take 120 minutes (no extra time). All exams are cumulative. Midterm exams take place in class and contain 7 ten-minute questions each. The final exam contains 12 ten-minute questions. Problem sets have to be handed in before 12:30pm on the due date to be considered.

Your final raw score will be your total points from the three exams and the three problem sets:

Problem sets:	50 points (15+15+20 points)	10/27, 11/24, 12/8
Midterm (80 minutes):	80 points	11/3
Final (120 minutes):	120 points	12/18
Total:	250 points

Your final letter grade will be inferred from the typical grade distribution (curve) in economics classes at UC San Diego. You can find this grade distribution at econ.ucsd.edu/muendler/teach/14f/101. Therefore the difficulty or simplicity of problem sets and exams will not matter, whereas your relative performance in comparison to your classmates will determine your final letter grade. Grades of D or F will not depend on the curve but on a minimal performance standard.

There will be review sessions to help you prepare for the exams.

Participation in exams is mandatory and excused only under the conditions that also permit an incomplete grade: course work must be of non-failing quality and absence must be for a cause beyond the student's control. In particular, the incidence of other exams on the same day is no reason for an excuse from the exam. Under its current rules, Student Health Services offers access to medical excuses that document illness only under extreme circumstances (severe, prolonged illness that necessitates dropping a class or obtaining specific accommodations for class/lab participation, test taking or make-up). To be excused from the midterm because of illness, the student must inform the instructor before the midterm exam. To be excused from the final exam, however, the illness must be sufficiently severe so that Student Health Services or another health-care provider does document the illness.

During exams, only a pen, a pencil, a ruler and an eraser are permitted for use. No other material is allowed. Principles of academic honesty are strictly applied.

Appeals of scores on exams must be submitted in writing, along with all prior exams and problem sets. Following the appeal, all questions on all exams will be reconsidered. An appeal may be denied if the exam was written with a pencil.

6 Course Schedule

I. Classic Trade Theory

1. Mon, October 6: Introduction to International Trade
(Krugman, Obstfeld, and Melitz 2011a/Ch. 1 and 2; Muendler 2014/Ch. 1)
